THE PRINCE IN CEYLON.

Wonderful Reception at Candy.

(Reuter's Service.)

Candy, March 23. The Prince of Wales had a wonderful journey here from Colombo. This morning the entire population of the district for fifteen miles each side of the railway gathered at the way stations to see his special train pass.

It was like the popular demonstrations which greeted him in Australia and Canada. There were solid masses of Cingalese in deep rows at every station platform and on the banks, rocks, and trees between them, and they went to extraordinary pains to decorate his seventy-mile route from the coast. Even single mud-hut displayed a Union Jack, and every tiny village showed its loyalty by bamboo arches or garlands strung between trees under the palms. For three and a half hours, the Prince passed what appeared to be an almost continuous crowd beginning at Colombo and continuing along the rice fields of the plain, then clinging in thin lines to the steep sides of the hills, where the special began its climb into cooler air, swelling again in numbers as the train approached this pleasant little city.

The absolute spontaneity of the reception was unmistakable. The people cheered like Europeans or saluted the prince with precise volleys of handclapping. Some stations contributed groups of industrious drummers banging tom-toms. The Prince was received at the station here by the Candy chiefs in their picturesque full dress balloon-like skirts of heavy silk, and jewelled hats. A brief address was followed by a brief response, after which the Prince motored to the Planters' Hall, where he was greeted by the majority of the thirteen hundred planters of the Island. The Prince inspected their smart infantry battalion.

The town itself is filled to the utmost with visitors from all parts of the island. The Prince shook hands with many of them at a garden-party this afternoon. To-night the Prince will attend a Durbar of the local chiefs, afterwards he will walk to the famous Temple of the Tooth adjoining the Durbar Hall, where will be displayed as a special honour for his Royal Highness this sacred relic, reputed to be the tooth of Buddha.

BRITISH SUBMARINE LOST.

Goes Down with All Hands.

London, March 23.

A Gibraltar message says a destroyer, during manoeuvres in the Straits, collided with submarine H-42, which was lost with all hands.

Later.

The Admiralty, in confirming the loss of the H-42 with all hands, says she was rammed by the destroyer Versatile, while exercising off Europa Point and sank in 500 fathoms.

Death Roll of Thirty.

Later.

A Gibraltar message says it is believed that the death roll is thirty. The Versatile was proceeding to England while the submarine was manoeuvring and was just rising to the surface at the moment of the crash.

THE BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

M. Berthelot's Disclosure.

Paris, March 20.

The Matin states that M. Philippe Berthelot voluntarily informed the recent court of discipline presided over by M. Poincaré that in 1919 his brother Andre, Chairman of the Banque Industrielle, gave him three and a half million francs in banknotes, of which he spent two and a half million francs in buying Renten and the remainder in buying a house. When in 1921 the bank was in difficulties he hastened to put two and a half million francs at his brother's disposal. The examining magistrate enquiring into the Bank's affairs subsequently questioned him at length concerning this.

THE SOVIET FORCES.

Mr. Chamberlain Does not Believe War Intended.

London, March 23.

In the House of Commons at question-time, Mr. Chamberlain stated that he believed the troops in West Russia had been slightly increased since January, but this was not necessarily a warlike measure. He did not believe the Soviet Government intended to embark upon a new war.

AUSTRALIAN STRIKE DENIED.

Rumour Said to be Electioneering Device.

INDIAN BUDGET PASSED.

Fiscal Autonomy.

Delhi, March 23.

The Finance Bill has passed the Legislative Assembly. The rejection of various proposed new taxes leaves an estimated uncovered deficit of £6,000,000.

A feature of the debate was the unanimity of the members in favour of India's fiscal autonomy.

Shanghai Labour Demands.

CARGO COOLIES' THREAT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, March 24.

Three hundred of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire's cargo coolies threaten to strike on April 1st, unless their wages are raised. Two hundred joss-paper workers went on strike when their pay demands were not met. The comb makers are out. The women workers of two silk filatures have also quit work. All the above insist that more wages are necessary because of the high price of rice, due to the demands of the armies.

Floral tributes were sent from many parts of the country.

RESTORING ORDER IN ULSTER.

Drastic Methods.

London, March 23.

In consequence of the opinion expressed in the House of Commons that the penalties in the measure for restoring order were insufficiently drastic, the Government, on the Committee stage of the Bill, submitted a new clause, which the House approved, applying the death penalty for offences connected with bombs.

The Government announced that if the present Bill was insufficient, it would propose to extend the death penalty to many other offences, like carrying arms without a permit.

Commander Wang K'ong arrived at Canton from Liuchow on 21st instant. He has returned to Canton to report to Governor Chen the result of his suppressing the bandits in Liuchow. Liuchow was formerly a resort of bandits, but after the arrival of General Wang last winter, the bandits have been suppressed by him. Peace in Liuchow at present is completely restored by the Commander. General Wang is reported to leave for Liuchow within two weeks. (Canton Times.)

HUNGHOM SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Attempt on Ricksha Proprietor.

Last night, at about 9 o'clock, Hunghom was the scene of a shooting affray, a ricksha proprietor, being the victim. He was shot and wounded, whilst in Bulkeley Street, by an unknown man, who made his escape.

Enquiries subsequently made by the police disclosed that the ricksha proprietor was returning to his home in Canton Street, Tsimsatani, in his ricksha when a man came out of the darkness and fired two shots in quick succession, at almost point-blank range. One bullet penetrated deeply into the left side of his victim's abdomen while the other pierced his right forearm.

The injured man fell from his vehicle and was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Small, who extracted the bullets from the wounds. The motive of the attack is not clear, by some it is alleged to be the result of a recent dispute which held up certain Kowloon rickshas.

BOXING CONTESTS.

Many Entries Received.

The Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong Boxing Association informs us that owing to the large number of entries received for the forthcoming Novices' Tournament, it has been found necessary to add a matinee on Saturday. The tournament will therefore start at 7 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, when preliminary fights will take place. The matinee on Saturday will be at 2.30 p.m., when the last preliminary fights and the semi-finals will be fought. The Saturday evening contests will commence at 9.15 p.m. sharp, the first fight being the Featherweight Championship, to be followed by four finals, and immediately after the interval, the Middleweight Championship will be fought, to be followed by the remaining three finals. It has been decided that a Flyweight Class be added, for which there are four entries. On Saturday night, the Band of the 2nd Battalion the King's Regiment, by kind permission of Lt. Col. Hyslop and the officers, will be in attendance.

The entries received for the different weight classes are as follows:—Flyweight, 4; Bantams, 14; Feathers, 15; Lights, 40; Welters, 23; Middles, 12; and Heavies, 5. Entries from different units were:—2nd Battalion the King's Regiment, 61; rest of Garrison, 4; Bazship, 17; light cruisers, 12; submarines, 6; Tamar and small ships, 3; Police, 4; civilians, 3. Owing to the numbers entering, the Boxing Committee have decided that any competitors failing to scale within 10 minutes for the class in which they have entered will be disqualified. Weighing and draw fights will take place on Wednesday next, the 22nd inst., at 5.30 p.m., at the Theatre Royal, underneath the stage. Each competitor will be given a number and will fight under that number. The programmes will give each competitor's name with his number in brackets beside his name, and the draw will only show the latter.

SANITARY SYSTEM FOR HANKOW.

The British Municipal Council at Hankow is contemplating the introduction of a modern sewerage system. According to one proposal the cost of this will be in the vicinity of £50,000, but in the meantime the authorities there are making reference to the Shanghai Municipal Council in order to obtain information regarding the system now in process of installation here. The Council at Hankow hopes to put its proposal in a concrete form before the ratifiers a year hence.

ARMED ROBBERIES.

Two More Cases.

The epidemic of armed robberies has spread to the Western district, where two affairs took place yesterday, in one of which a Chinese lady and her son were stabbed and sustained injuries which, it is feared, may end fatally for the former.

In the first case it is stated that Chan Pik-chee, who lives at No. 9 Hospital Road, was walking in that thoroughfare when just opposite the Ellis Kadoorie School, he was stopped by three men, one of whom was armed with a revolver, and subjected to a search. A purse containing $40 was taken from his jacket, and, satisfied with this find, the robbers proceeded to make their escape. They ran through the Hospital grounds pursued by their victim, who had been joined by Police Sergeant Barnett. The man with the revolver, at one point in the chase, turned round and threatened to fire at his pursuers. When Eastern Street was reached the desperadoes had made their escape.

At the same spot where the first affair occurred, another robbery was carried out, apparently by another gang, from the fact that they were differently armed. With his mother, a 17-year old Chinese student was walking past the school when they were met by four men. The men's intentions being apparent, the boy blew a whistle, at which he was stabbed on the arm and his mother was also injured, but more seriously. She was stabbed in the abdomen and is in a bad way at the moment at the Government Civil Hospital, where she was taken after the robbery. As in the previous case, the robbers made their escape, but lacked the courage to rob their victims.

COAL THIEVES.

A Lame Excuse.

When an energetic police sergeant made what he calculated would be a surprise visit one line of sampans tied to the foreshore and conveniently near a leap of coal at East Point yesterday, he did not reckon that any culprit would think of making an escape by jumping overboard. But this was in fact what did happen. Considerable hubbub broke out on the appearance of the police officer, and a man leaped into the sea from one of the boats and made his escape. The sergeant then ransacked the boat in question and discovered a sack of coal stowed away in the hold. The mistress, along with her daughter-in-law, were brought up and charged before Mr. R. E. Lint, sell this morning. On responsibility being assumed by the elder woman, who sought also to excuse herself by relating a cock-and-bull story, his Worship imposed a sentence of a $100 fine or, alternatively, six weeks' hard labour.

The defendant in another case told the Court that someone tied the bag of coal (amounting to half a ton) to the anchor of her sampan, and thus landed her in trouble with the police.

His Worship:—Somebody did it, I see. Dived into the water and tied the bag to your anchor? $50 or seven weeks.

CANTON ASSASSINATION.

General Succumbs to Wounds.

Yesterday we reported an attempt on the life of General Tang Hong at Canton, and news is now to hand that the bullet which was fired at him had fatal effects.

It is reported (says the Canton Times) that last Tuesday evening at 7.30, while the late General was descending from the evening train from Hongkong at Tai-sha-tan, he was shot by an unknown assailant. A bullet penetrated his stomach. The General was immediately taken into a motor car to the French Hospital, where many Chinese and foreign doctors were called on to operate, and the operations seemed to be very successful. But at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, the General's condition suddenly became worse and at 4.30 yesterday morning he died.

The late Gen. Tang Hong was a native of Wai-yang district, and was 37 years old. He was a graduate of the Kwangtung Military Academy in Whampoa. In 1912 when Gen. Chen was Tsuchun or military governor of this province, he was holding the post of Garrison Commissioner of Kiangchow and Yehow. When Lung Chai-kwang invaded Kwangtung, Gen. Tang retired from service. Gen. Tang was a brave soldier. He had done brave deeds and won many battles in the campaign in ridding the province of the Kwangsi militarists and northern politicians in 1920. Last year, the General took a prominent part in the Kwangsi campaign, and he cleared out the remnant of Kwangsi troops and bandits on the North River last summer, when the former Kwangsi General Li K'ang-ruan attempted to invade the province again.

The General is survived by an only son, 4 years old, a wife and a mother who is more than 60 years old. He was Chief of Staff and Commander of the First Division of the Cantonese Army.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The Discussion on Land
Resumption.Below we give a fuller account of the discussion at yesterday's Legislative Council on the question of Crown land resumption.The Hon. Colonial Secretary, proposing the second reading of the Bill introduced an Ordinance to amend the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance, 1921, said: With regard to this Bill I would like to add to what the Hon. Attorney General said on the occasion of the first reading with respect to representations that have been made in connection with clause 2 (c). There was a fear expressed that holders of land under permits and short leases, where they had no guarantee that their titles would be renewed, may be deprived of their land and buildings, if there are any on it, without proper compensation. On behalf of the Government I would like to say that any such cases will be treated in the same equitable manner in which they have always been treated in this Colony in the past, and any compensation in respect of their purely temporary rights will be on an adequate and equitable scale. The Ordinance, as has been pointed out, is to aim at speculation in land where purchase is made at figures which have no relation to the value of land and which are partly based on the hope that the Government may grant an extension to which the holder of the temporary title has no right at all.
The Hon. Colonial Treasurer responded.

The Chinese View.

Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak said:
"Since the first reading of this Bill many Chinese who have invested largely in this Colony are very much alarmed as to the safety of such investments and their confidence and good faith in the Government has also been much shaken.
In their opinion this Bill, although simple in form, would, when passed into law, have very far-reaching results, affecting great loss on those who have helped to build up the prosperity of this Colony by investing their money here and entailing great hardship on the original settlers on the island of Hongkong and the New Territories. The remarks just made by the Hon. Colonial Secretary are no doubt meant as answers to the arguments advanced by the Chinese community, written to me as Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce more than a month ago; but such arguments are still unknown although known to the Government by some of my Unofficial colleagues. With your Excellency's permission I will now quote in full what the Chinese said in that letter. Paragraph 1 of the letter says: 'As stated in the Objects and Reasons' of the Bill, the only part that is practically new is clause 2 (c) which aims at the revelation of 'mere expectancies or probabilities' from all claims for compensation in land resumption.
Paragraph 1 of the Objects and Reasons is not clear as to whether the Bill is intended to apply to lands held under certain tenures.
For instance, it is not clear from the wording of either the Bill or the example given in the Objects whether building-lands held under 75-year and 21-year leases which do not contain a 'renewal' clause would come within the scope of the proposed Bill. We cannot believe that it is the intention of the Government to bring this class of lands under the proposed law; but if it is, we submit that compensation should be paid in all such cases in respect of the probabilities or expectancy that the leases would be renewed."

Bought on Expectancy.

His Excellency interposed with the remark that it was rather difficult to follow these discussions if the point was left too long. He would like the hon. member to say whether it was seriously suggested by the persons who wrote the letter that when a lease expired on a definite date the holder was entitled to expect renewal and if not renewed was entitled to be compensated.Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak: If such was the condition under which the land was leased to them I think they are entitled to renewal.Hon. Mr. Pollock remarked that it seemed to amount to little more than expectancy.Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak: In almost every case in the Colony land was bought on expectancy.Hon. Mr. Pollock: Supposing a man has a lease for 75 years and an agreement that the lease will be renewed on certain terms, that is a matter of agreement and not of expectancy.

Before the British Came.

Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak, proceeding, said: Another point raised by the Chinese is most important, and that is that land was originally held by them before the Colony came under the British flag. In the proclamation by Captain Elliot at the time of the cession of the Colony to Great Britain there were these words: "They (the Chinese) are further secured in the enjoyment of their lawful private property and interests." Well, under the law of China those men are still entitled to hold their land in perpetuity and when any resumption is made it is only reasonable that compensation should be paid them. Under this Bill now before us there will be no compensation paid, because the Government are taking back from them the right of the land and giving what is a license in exchange. The natives of the New Territories are practically placed in the same position. I think it is my duty to let my Unofficial colleagues know all the views of the Chinese as communicated to me in a letter dated February 7th, if your Excellency will allow me.His Excellency intimated that the hon. member could proceed.

People Not Aimed At.

Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak, continuing, said: Paragraph 5 of the letter says: "Then there are lands held by natives of the soil under short leases or permits, or, in some few cases, we are informed, under no leases or permits at all, although the owners and their forefathers have been occupants thereof from time immemorial—long before the Colony came under the British flag.
It has been represented to us that a large number of these poor people hold no leases but yearly tenants, from the Government, while we have not even obtained permits for putting up buildings on their land, through their ignorance of British law. It has been argued that no matter what the form of possession the people hold from the Government, they have a right to the permanent occupancy of the lands handed down to them by their forefathers, and that such right should be respected in face of the Proclamation issued by Captain Elliot.
According to the land laws of China, all titles to land, whether building or agricultural, are practically perpetual; and this being the case, it would seem that the present holders, so long as they can prove their title, should be secured in the enjoyment of their property, and compensation should be paid to them for any resumption according to the prevailing market value, irrespective of the question of expectancy or probability. We believe that it is not this class of people that the Bill is designed to aim at, but rather those who speculate in land."

Seriously Affects Land Holdings.

Paragraph 6 says:
"The fear expressed by the Government in paragraph 2 of the Objects and Reasons that inflated prices paid for land on mere expectancy might have the effect of checking development of the district concerned, is not shared by those who have had intimate knowledge of land development in the Colony.
That is required to stimulate a healthy development in that direction is greater expedition in dealing with applications for land and the payment of fair compensations for all lands resumed for public purposes." In conclusion the letter says: "While on this question of resumption, we desire to bring to the notice of the Government certain representations made to us to the effect that the Government has often compulsorily resumed large portions of private-owned land when only a much smaller area was actually required for public purposes, and resold the excess at a profit. We have been requested to submit the suggestion, which we accordingly do, though the question does not directly come within the purview of our inquiry, that the Government may see their way in future not to resume more land than is absolutely necessary for a public purpose." That is the letter, Sir, I have received, and I agree with the writers that the operation of this Bill
if passed into law will seriously affect land holdings in the Colony.and I submit the Government should take their view more favourably into consideration.Hon. Mr. Chow Shou-sun said:
I beg to state that I fully concur with the opinions expressed by my senior colleague.

His Excellency's Reply.

His Excellency the Governor said:
With regard to the question of Chinese tenure I prefer not to say anything at this stage, leaving it to members of the Council more familiar with the facts than I am.
I wish to say at once and emphatically that I will not be a party to any suggestion that a lease for a fixed period of years contains any suggestion, expectation or hope of renewal unless it is specially so stated in the lease. I take the view which every landlord will take,
which is that if he grants his property for a particular period when that particular period expires the lease is dead. It is for him to decide on what terms he will renew it at all. Therefore, if it is necessary to resume land held on leasefor a specific number of years, such lease containing no expectation or promise of renewal, I would agree to allowing any possible expectation of tenancy of the Government to be taken into account in assessing compensation. It is a plain business transaction. The other point I should like to deal with as far as I can understand the suggestion of the letter to which the hon. member has referred, is that it shall be open to any land speculator to purchase agricultural land at more than its reasonable value because he has reason to believe—he may possibly be informed from private sources—that a building scheme is intended in the future and that therefore he is justified in getting as much as possible out of the community for his business acumen. That is a proposition from which I must most emphatically dissent. I cannot think of anything more calculated to destroy the development of the Colony than a system of the kind by which people obtaining private information or possibly guessing accurately where future developments are likely to take place, proceed to buy up land with the view to holding it up for the Government for a higher price.

Chinese Law Bites Two Ways.

If anybody raises the price beyond the market value I prefer it to be the original holder instead of the speculator. With regard to permits dealt with by the Hon.
Colonial Secretary, it has been the practice of the Government to take a very reasonable view. In many cases of leases for a limited period of years we have actually granted compensations for buildings for which no compensation was really due. I think the Government may be relied upon to deal in a reasonable spirit with any cases of years tenancies where there is a real andreasonable expectation that the tenancy will be renewed. It is improbable that there are any pre-British holdings on this island without definite titles, but I am not in a position to deal with that just now. The suggestion is made that under Chinese law anybody who is found in the actual possession of certain land is entitled to it in perpetuity. I do not know whether it is Chinese law; if so it sounds rather remarkable. I think if we are going to apply the principles of Chinese law with regard to land tenure we shall certainly apply them with regard to the compensation which is paid. If the hon.
member will enquire into the question with regard to the compensation paid in Canton when the new streets were built he will receive one of the surprises of his life.There being no further discussion the second reading of the Bill was taken, the Chinese members dissenting. The Bill subsequently passed all stages.

The Rents Ordinance.

His Excellency the Governor said: It is not proposed to proceed to-day with the next item on the paper (Second reading of the Bill introduced an Ordinance to restrict the taking of legal proceedings in respect of certain acts and matters done during the war and to provide in certain cases remedies in substitution thereof). Before we adjourn there is one matter of which I should like to say a few words.
You will remember about this time last year, after much hesitation and reluctance, I was compelled to introduce a Bill restricting rents. I expressed at the time the hope that it would not be necessary to retain that Bill in operation for more than one year. At the time the Bill was passed certain fears were expressed as to the effect that it might have on building and generally on business, which fears, I am glad to say, have proved not to be well founded. "There has been" very considerable amount of building during last year. I had hoped that it would have been sufficient to relieve the previous shortage of housing accommodation to an extent which would make it unnecessary to continue the Ordinance in operation. I am informed, however, that that has not been the case, and that it is still necessary to keep this Ordinance alive. A further, the tenants will again be in the unfortunate position of being unable to obtain the necessary funds which they had to raise last year, that is at the mercy of unscrupulous landlords. I therefore wish to give notice now that it is the intention of the Government to propose in the next few weeks that the Ordinance be renewed, and that it shall remain in operation for another year. During the course of last year there have been certain indications that the Ordinance may be somewhat of a hardship on some circumstances, which haveTry a Chesterfield and desirable to introduce some amend-amendments will require some con-

THE REPARATIONS DECISION.

Paris, March 23.
The Reparations Commission's decisions include the following provisions: Of the 1,450,000,000 of gold marks to be paid in kind, France will receive 950,000,000, and suspension of payments temporarily permitted will be considered by the Commission on 31st May, who, if not satisfied that efforts are being made to meet the instalments, may demand payment of the overdue amounts within a fortnight.

In addition to stipulating that any unpaid balances for 1921 and 1922 will be considered as debt at five per cent. interest, the Reparations Commission demands that Germany immediately draw up a scheme for increasing taxation in the 1922-23 budget by at least sixty milliards of paper marks, and reducing expenditure.

Berlin, March 23.
The Reparations decision arrived like a bombshell. The Foreign Affairs Committee hastily adjourned and the Cabinet was summoned. The Vossische Zeitung says that instead of alleviating Germany's financial position, the decision has done the opposite. The Deutsche Allgemeine declares that the decision is overbearing with unprecedented penalties. The Vorwärts predicts unusual excitement, especially among the workers. The Berlin Tageblatt describes the demands as especially severe and humiliating.

THE FOUR POWER PACT.

Washington, March 23.
Threatened with an interminable debate on the Four Power Treaty, the Senate has decided to limit individual speeches to an hour. Before the limit was imposed a flood of speeches was unleashed. Senators who had prepared long addresses jostled one another to obtain a hearing.

Senator La Follette bitterly assailed the Treaty, declaring that it was simply an extension of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Moreover, it bound the United States to support all British and Japanese claims in the Pacific.

Senator Pomeroy, Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee, supporting the Treaty, admitted that it constituted an alliance, but a non-aggressive one. He objected to weakening the part by reservations and asked how any Democrat who supported the Versailles Treaty could justify himself in opposing the present Treaty.

THE ARMIES OF OCCUPATION.

Washington, March 23.
Mr. Hughes' note to the Allies regarding the demand for payment of the cost of occupation declares that the Franco-Belgian occupation costs have been fully paid. The unpaid balance up to May last year, amounted in all to 1,650,000,000 gold marks, of which Britain had since received 131,000,000 thereof. "Subject to the rights of the United States."

The note argues that since the sharing of the United States in priority payments was not made conditional on ratification of the Treaty, failure to ratify should not be construed as affecting American rights. Moreover, Germany explicitly consented to priority of payment of the costs of the American occupation, notwithstanding the fact that America had not ratified the Treaty.

THE DISSENSION IN IRELAND.

London, March 23.
Referring to the Irish Provisional Government's ban, mentioned on 18th inst., Commandant O'Connor, Director of Engineering of the I.R.A., declares that resolutions will be submitted to the Convention on 25th inst., reaffirming the allegiance of the Army to the Republic and appointing an executive which will supremely control the Army. He declared the Convention will represent at least 80 per cent. of the Army and that the Army is prepared to take the offensive against the Provisional Government even if at the elections a majority of the people supported the latter.

THE CANNES CONFERENCE.

Paris, March 23.
A charge of the Government's intentions as regards international meetings is contained in an announcement stating that in deference to the Allies' unanimous opinion, France will consent to be bound by arrangements wherein she has participated at London and Cannes, but henceforward the actions of French delegates are subject to parliamentary approval. It is added that this attitude was defined when Mr. Lloyd George asked M. Poincare to go to Genoa with a view to entering pledges on behalf of France.

GRAFT IN AMERICA.

Okmulgee (Oklahoma), March 23.
A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the Governor of Oklahoma, Mr. Robertson, and a State Bank Commissioner, Mr. Dennis, on charges of accepting bribes to permit a bank to do business after it was found insolvent. It is alleged that they accepted $25,000. The Governor is also charged with depositing $150,000 worth of State funds after the insolvency was discovered.

RUSSIAN FAR EASTERN REPUBLIC.

Reval, March 23.
The Government of the Far Eastern Republic has sent notes to Japan, Britain and America protesting against alleged support for the White Guards and the export of Republican property from Vladivostok.

THE NAVAL REDUCTIONS.

London, March 23.
In the House of Commons, replying to Sir Frederick Hall, Sir Lt.-Col. Amery said that while the naval reductions were naturally dependent on general ratification by Washington of the Naval Treaty, they were not necessarily dependent on ratification of the Pacific agreement.

THE RATE FOR ROUBLES.

Reval, March 23.
The ruling rate for foreign remittances to Russia through the Russian Imperial Bank is 580,000 Soviet roubles to a dollar.

THE ASIA MINOR TROUBLES.

Paris, March 23.
The Allied Foreign Ministers have resolved jointly to telegraph Athens, Constantinople and Ankara proposing a three months armistice in Asia Minor and the establishment of a neutral zone ten kilometres wide under the control of Allied Commissioners.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Financial Minutes.

The Hon. Colonial Secretary presided over the meeting of the Finance Committee and explained the following votes, which were approved:

$1,200 in aid of the vote Kowloon-Canton Railway, other Charges, Maintenance of Way, Works and Stations, Repairs, Station Buildings.

The Hon. Colonial Secretary said that the engineer of the railway had reported that in consequence of the abnormal heavy passenger traffic passing at times through the collapsible gates at Kowloon station it was necessary for them to be replaced. Repairs and replacements must be taken in hand at once. There were new gates and spare parts in stock and it was proposed to utilise them. The estimate for carrying out the work amounted to $1,200.

$3,388 on Account of Kowloon-Canton Railway, Special Expenditure, Additional Sidings, Loco Yard, Hung Hom.

The Hon. Colonial Secretary explained that the manager of the railway had reported that considerable difficulty was being experienced in cleaning the coaches. The proposal was to transfer the whole of the cleaning to Hung Hom and put in three sidings, lay additional water pipes, etc. To do the work efficiently would cost $3,388.

Hon. Mr. Parr said that meant the coaches proceeding to Hung Hom and then going back again.

Hon. Colonial Secretary said that with the present method it was impossible to clean the coaches in time for the next day's traffic. If the coaches were concentrated in one place they could be cleaned properly, the cisterns filled and everything done to them that was necessary and so that they could move out the next morning.

Hon. Mr. Parr: They clean the coaches at night?

Hon. Colonial Secretary: Yes, it is done at night.

The Council adjourned until Thursday next.

WORLD THEATRE.

"The Blue Bonnet" Billie Rhodes Picture.

Billie Rhodes, dainty ingenue star, who for years convulsed motion picture fandom by her original style of tumbling in short comedy subjects and later thrilled it by her performances in several big special productions, will be seen at the World Theatre, beginning Friday, 24th, in her first W. W. Hodkinson release, "The Blue Bonnet," unquestionably one of the times; and most powerful screen vehicles before the public to-day.

Ruth Drake, reared as the child of strangers after being deserted by her mother in infancy, joins the Salvation Army to help American doughboys at home and abroad, and, incidentally, to be near her childhood sweetheart, Danny Fowler, who has enlisted. Her mother, following her desertion of her husband and child to take up a stage career, became an overnight success with the aid of her shrewd manager and backer, Sidney Harland, whom she loves. Shortly after Danny Harland leaves for overseas Ruth is assigned for work near the battle-ground. She gets over in time to nurse Danny in his last hours and to assist in restoring Harland to health. Returning to America with him Ruth is arrested, charged with robbery, on the complaint of the actress—a false accusation prompted by jealousy.

In a thrilling courtroom scene in which Ruth is defended by Jarius Drake, a derelict but once a prosperous lawyer, who proves to be her father. He recognizes her accuser as the wife who betrayed him. A moment later father and daughter are united while the wretched woman steals away to prevent her husband from carrying out his vow to kill.

SHAKESPEARE IN SCHOOLS.

"On the understanding that expenditure of this kind has now ceased," the Minister of Health has sanctioned the expenditure by the L.C.C. of £7,093 in 1920-21, and £193 in 1921-22, in connection with payments to the London Central Shakespeare Committee of Teachers.

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 1922.

THE IDES OF MARCH.

We have passed the Ides of March! and China's Caesar is unknown. Who is China's Caesar? The parallel here is to the country's dictator, so you can take your choice from the Super-Tuchuns, with Chang Tso-lin generally reckoned to be at the head. Earlier in the month we remarked in this column that, according to reports, things had reached a pass between the rivals where a resort to arms had become practically inevitable. Rumours of impending war were more circumstantial than usual. Wu Pei-fu was drilling his troops night and day, and their total was expanded by some accounts from 100,000 to 700,000, which must have meant including the forces of the various provincial leaders whom he hoped to find following his standard. Simultaneously came news that Chang's arsenal at Mukden was working overtime. By appearance there were all the materials for a big collision this time. The days have passed, and nothing has come of it. Perhaps, in spite of the parlance, the rivals "have been playing about the ring too long—there will be no fight," especially as it has become increasingly probable that the third Super-Tuchun, Tso Kwan, does not want to risk a fight on one side or the other.

By ordinary reasoning, the avoidance of a forcible clash would be matter for extreme rejoicing. In the case of China's War Lords, the position has been that, with a clash seemingly inevitable, better to get it over and done with. For the present the threatened conflict has petered out, and Wu has issued a manifesto deprecating rumours of war as unfounded. So may it be, for at best war is calamitous, and if the Super-Tuchuns did clash it is not at all certain that unification would be brought any nearer. It might have the opposite effect of rendering an improvement in China's condition still more remote, because if the rival party were eliminated, the successful War Lord could ride the high horse higher than ever, with representative government further postponed. But if no war is meant, why all the preparations? The fact appears to be that, naturally, neither Chang nor Wu wishes the risk of a contest if he can gain his end without it, but that both are making ready for eventualities. It remains to be seen whether a clash will be averted, or whether it has only been postponed.

Meantime, and as helping to account for Wu's pacific manifesto, it is now acknowledged that negotiations have been proceeding which bring Canton into the picture. Dr. Wu Ting-fang's son, Dr. C. C. Wu, has been visiting at the Mukden War Lord's stronghold, and, though no definite announcement has been made, it is understood that some kind of arrangement has been reached between Chang and Canton, hence, as we said, Wu's cautiousness. If the Canton forces are relatively small at present, it would still be dangerous for the Yangtze leader to have Dr. Sun's expedition on one side of him and Chang's forces on the other. We confess that we cannot look very hopefully upon the idea of a compact between the South China Government and a military dictator like Chang, even when accompanied by talk of convening the long-deferred Parliament. Looking at Tuchun-ridden China, one sees small room for encouragement. Where the ground for hope comes in is in China's industrious millions.

NOTES & COMMENTS.

Good News.

The fears expressed at the meeting of the Kowloon Residents' Association that there was a possibility of the Rents Restriction Ordinance being withdrawn from the Statute Book have been promptly allayed by the announcement made at yesterday's Legislative Council meeting by His Excellency the Governor. The Government intends renewing the Ordinance for a further year, and has given notice of that fact, much to the satisfaction of tenants in general. This restricting enactment is admittedly an emergency measure, to cope with unusual conditions. But as long as the conditions are abnormal, it must, in the interests of tenants, remain operative. That is the sum and substance of the matter. When the Bill was introduced, there was an outcry against it on the part of landlords, who predicted that it would discourage building. Those fears have not been realised, for building has gone on with astounding rapidity during the past year. Yet, in spite of that fact, the demand for accommodation is still greater than the supply of houses, which serves to indicate the extent to which, but for the Ordinance, tenants would have been at the mercy of profiteering landlords during the past year. There are some respects, according to His Excellency, in which the Ordinance operates harshly on landlords. We do not know in what particular respect this is so, but by promising to give due weight to representations under this head, the Governor shows that, whilst most anxious to protect tenants, he wants to give honest landlords a fair deal. No-one will complain at that, but a rent-paying community will want adequate assurances that nothing shall be done to weaken the fundamental principle of the Ordinance. Knowing the feelings of His Excellency on this point, we need have no apprehensions in this regard. By his firm stand on this rent question, the Governor has earned the gratitude of the whole of the householders of the Colony. In his hands, our interests are safe.

Land Justice.
Yesterday's meeting of the Council was also productive of an interesting discussion on the question of Crown Land resumption, and it is well to bear in mind just what it is that the Ordinance provides for. It says that, in assessing compensation when resuming land, the Government shall make no allowance simply on account of the land being compulsorily resumed; in other words, resumption either forced or through the effluxion of time will rank for the same treatment. No compensation shall be given in respect of any use of the land which is not in accordance with the terms of the lease, and no compensation shall be given in respect of any expectancy or probability of the renewal of the lease. In other words, the value of all land resumed shall be taken to be the amount which the land if sold in the open market might be expected to realise. That sounds very reasonable in the public interest, but the Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak voiced Chinese complaint at what they consider to be a real against the continued occupancy of their private holdings. So far as the public is concerned there are a few points to be borne in mind. The first is that all land in this Colony is leased from the Government (there is no freehold) and that the Government has an undoubted right to resume possession when leases terminate. In cases where the land has been held for so long that only a squatter's right is held the Government has a right to resume possession on paying reasonable compensation. In cases where the Government interferes with the course of a lease it also has a duty to pay compensation, but apart from the above considerations the Government has a greater duty to reside in as a whole than it has to land itself. We are pleased to see that it is recognising that and that land speculators and those who seek to hold up development are being brought under a law which ensures this Colony a reasonable opportunity to develop at a reasonable price. Chinese landlords who have a just right to compensation will undoubtedly get a just amount.

Information from Kweilin is to the effect that a strong force of the "Kamchu" (the Kiangsi army) led by Commander-in-chief General Pung Ching-man, proceeded from Kweilin into Hunan on March 11th, says the Canton Times. Before advancement, the army was reviewed by General Li Lieh Chun who handed over the banner of the army to General Pung, expressing optimism for his victory over the Northern foe. A speech was also made by General Li encouraging them to fight for the sake of relieving their country from the hands of the Northern military tyrants. The soldiers were deeply moved by the General's speech.

FOOTBALL.

To-morrow's Programme.

(BY "QUIZ.")
The matches for to-morrow are as follow:—

SHIELD FINAL.
Hongkong Club v. R. G. A.—Club ground at 4.30 p.m.

LEAGUE: DIVISION I.
Kick-off 4.30 p.m.

H. M. S. Tamar v. H. M. S. Cairo—Navy "B" ground.
H. M. S. Curlew v. Hongkong Police—Navy "A" ground.
South China v. Kowloon—South China ground.

H. M. S. Titania v. King's—Kowloon F. C. ground, Happy Valley.

LEAGUE: DIVISION II.
Kick-off 3 p.m.

United A. C. v. South China "A"—United ground.

Curlew Reserves v. H. K. Club Reserves—Navy "A" ground.
Kowloon Reserves v. King's Reserves—Navy "B" ground.

St. Joseph's v. University—St. Joseph's ground.

The final game in the Challenge Shield on the Club ground will attract a large number of football enthusiasts who should witness a well-contested game.

The Club, with their dashing forwards, will start favourites and will no doubt open the scoring. Curlew will be again in the forward line this week and McFarish will go out on the wing. This attack should be much too fast for the R.G.A. defense, which was very shaky last week in the semi-final against the Police. The Club should outplay the R.G.A. in all positions except the middle line, the R.G.A. halves being second to none. McCubbin will partner Gerrard at back in the enforced absence of J. Rodgers, who is still on the injured list. It is expected that the R.G.A. will go the distance (45 minutes each way) better than the Club. The R.G.A. attack is fairly strong, but their inside forwards have not the dash in front of goal. McHugh will again lead the attack. The wings are capable of good work and it would not come as a surprise to see the match end in a draw. These teams have met twice before this season on the Club ground, the home team winning on each occasion by 1 to 0 and 3 to 1. Mr. Smith will be in charge of the game.

These games in the League this week will have a bearing on the Championship, and the leading teams should win their matches. Tamar meet the Cairo on the Navy "B" ground and should maintain their position at the head of the League. The Cairo did well last week when they beat the King's, and they should run the Tamar very close.

South China are at home to Kowloon and should win. They were lucky to share the points with the Tamar last week in a game that favoured the sailors. Kowloon beat Titania by four goals to one last week and will give the Chinese a good game.

Curlew are due to receive the Police on Navy "A" ground and a fast game should end in a win for the sailors. The Police last week were out of form when they met the R.G.A. in the semi-final of the Shield and played their worst game of the season. The backs and halves could do nothing right, while the forwards could not get the ball away from the middle line. The sailors beat the Cairo in midweek and improved their position in the league, being now bracketed with Hongkong Club and South China for second position. It would seem advisable to remind Clubs that goal average is of no advantage in the Colony. In the event of two or more Clubs finishing at the top of the league with the same number of points, the Committee will arrange a match (or matches) to decide the ultimate winners, the same rule applying to runners-up.

The Titania meet the King's on the Kowloon F. C. ground at Happy Valley and the soldiers should win. Last week they both went down, the sailors losing to Kowloon, while the King's failed against the Cairo.

Of the Junior matches, that on the United ground should produce good football. The United are playing very strong just now and it is expected that they will win. Au Kit-sang assisted South China "A" last week against St. Joseph's and the question arises about his reinstatement to the Junior division, he having played three senior matches. The King's and Curlew Reserves should win their games against

The English Cup.

The fourth round re-plays in the competition for the English Cup, played on March 10th, resulted:—

Preston North End 2 Arsenal 1
 Aston Villa 3 Nottingham 1

In the remaining replay, on March 18th, Tottenham Hotspur defeated Cardiff by two goals to one.

The draw for the semi-finals on March 20th is as follows:—

Huddersfield Town versus Nottingham Tottenham Hotspur versus Preston North End at Sheffield.

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

Mr. Bernard Shaw must be given the credit of making the play an acceptable form of reading matter, says a London writer. Twenty-five years ago how many plays were published in book form in a twelve-month? Not as many as are now issued in a single week. Perhaps in those days the average play was of the stage stogy. It made tedious reading. Such is not the case now, and the difference marks the progress in dramatic work of the last decade. Within the last few days four plays have been published, all of which make excellent reading. There is Mr. John Drinkwater's "Oliver Cromwell" (Sidgwick and Jackson), in every way a worthy companion of "Abraham Lincoln." There is Miss Clemence Dane's much discussed "Will Shakespeare," Mr. Granville Barker's translation of Sacha Guitry's "Deburau," and, finally, Mr. Zangwill's romantic drama "The Cockpit."

Kowloon and Club Reserves and maintain their positions at the head of the League.

University should beat St. Joseph's.

A SILENT DRAMA.

"Robbery that Wasn't."

"It was an attempted armed robbery, and yet it wasn't," were the words which Police Inspector Willis used in describing a silent drama that took place in his district yesterday. What occurred to give this negative aspect to the case and necessitated the preference of an alternative charge against the man concerned was that no words were uttered the whole while that the offence was committed, it being all in the nature of a dumb charade.

A vegetable gardener of Homuntin, on his way to the market at Yaumati, had to pass a spot which he knew to be infested by robbers. His fears turned out to be justified when in crossing the No. 3 Bridge of the Kowloon-Canton Railway he heard a football behind and, on turning round, found himself face to face with a man of villainous countenance who held a dagger in his hand in the act of striking. No words were exchanged by either man. This was because on the one side it was viewed as the realisation of an expected occurrence, and on the other side silence was necessary to produce the right atmosphere for the necessary psychological effect to be produced on the prisoner by the threatening pose of the dagger. Unfortunately the courage of the robber failed him at this moment. He saw the gardener raise the bamboo pole he was carrying, and fled in the direction whence he came. The drama was in a minute changed into a comedy, and what happened subsequently can best be described in the following passages between Magistrate and the gardener at the Police Court this morning:—

Mr. R. E. Lindsell.—Tell us what happened when you approached the bridge.

"I saw a group of men gathered together at the head of the bridge. I regarded them with suspicion and thought it best for my personal safety to edge away from them as far as possible when I passed them to continue my journey. My eyes were at the same time commanding a furtive view of them, so that I was not surprised to see one figure detach itself from the group and follow me. The footfalls were markedly nearer when I turned round and perceived this same man poised over me with the dagger held in the act of striking. I instantly pushed out my bamboo pole, took out my whistle and blew strongly on it. The man at once switched round on his heels and bolted. His companions had no recourse but to do likewise, with me in pursuit."

"You are a brave man," commented the Magistrate. The compliment was accepted and the witness pointed a scornful finger at the respondent man in the dock, remarking: "He is no fighting man, and of course is no match for me."

Continuing his depositions, the brave man said that the chase after the robber took him over the way by which he (witness) had come. Before they arrived at the hill on the other side of which his home was situated, the robber on one occasion turned on his heels and threatened his pursuer with the dagger. The latter, instead of closing in as a brave man would, also stopped and blew his whistle, and that was all he did, apart from keeping up a lively pursuit. Of course the robber had to resume his lively pace as soon as the whistle was sounded, and this continued until the hill was reached, when, in response to the summons on the whistle, the other members of the gardener's family came out and prevented the fugitive's escape.

As to what occurred to the other members of the gang, the witness said that at one stage in the pursuit they became separated from the prisoner and made their escape. The dagger was discarded by the prisoner in his flight up the hill, but was subsequently recovered by him, at the instigation of Sergeant Dorling.

The Magistrate was satisfied as to the evidence, notwithstanding some rather ingenious pleas put forward by the prisoner, and passed the maximum sentence of a year's hard labour. The charge preferred was one of being in possession of an offensive weapon.

VICTORIA REGATTA.

This Year's Programme.

Arrangements are now being made in connection with the Victoria Regatta, an event the popularity of which is proved by the fact that the first was held as long ago as 1849 and it is still going strong. The Regatta will be held at Easter, on Saturday, April 15th, and Monday, April 17th.

The sports, which will be held as usual at Black Boulder Point, commence at two o'clock on the first day and eleven o'clock on Easter Monday. Launches will leave Blake Pier on the Saturday at one o'clock and on the Monday at ten o'clock. They will run at half-hour intervals until three o'clock on each day.

The events confined to members of the Victoria Recreation Club are the International Challenge Cup four's (one mile), Tub Sculling junior's (half mile), Lusitano Cup senior four's (one mile), Chinese Challenge Cup junior four's (one mile) and Chair-an's Challenge Cup four's (one mile).

Other events will be the Ho Tung's Challenge Cup four's for boys, regiments, units, ships, corps, etc., excluding clubs (one mile), Ladies' Prize with lady coxswain and a crew picked from all who take part in the Regatta on Sunday, the 15th, the Cox to be nominated by the stroke (quarter mile), Naval Whalers open to all H. M. Ships in harbour (one mile), Naval Cutters (two miles), Officers' Skills (half mile), the three last with Service boats and under Service conditions.

There will be a motor-boat race open to the Colony (eight miles), boats to be handicapped according to the estimated speed taken from the particulars on the entry form, a Police Boat Race open to the Hongkong Water Police (half mile) and sailing races, cruiser class, handicap class, Haywood Hays and Gale class.

Then there are the Interport events, Singapore, Shanghai, Tientsin, Manila and Canton have been written to, but with the exception of Canton, who have answered that they will not be able to get together crews this year, the replies are still awaited. The Interport events will include four's and pair's, senior and junior.

The Athletic meeting this year will take place on April 29th, on the Football Club Ground. It will be on the same lines as last year and will include a marathon.

PRODUCE EXCHANGES.

The Question of Licences.

It is some months since the applications for the formation of produce exchanges received the official approval of the Registrar of Public Companies, yet so far only two have been established. They have, however, put in a sufficient volume of business to warrant a place amongst the commercial institutions of the Colony. What has happened to the others which recently made their appearance, on paper, with huge capital figures, still remains somewhat of a mystery. It is pretty well-known that in consequence of views expressed in this paper, which later formed the subject of debates at a recent Council meeting, a Bill is now in course of preparation by the Attorney-General for the regulation of these exchanges. The draft of this new law, we are given to understand, contains a clause providing for the licensing of these institutions, and it is in respect of this that some promoters are rumoured to be lying low.

A Chinese banker who should be in a position to speak on the subject, assured a Telegraph reporter yesterday that it was not so much objection to Government supervision of their business as the fear that licences would be refused to them that has induced certain promoters from committing themselves to further inauguration expenses until the terms of the expected Bill are made public. From this the inference is drawn that the licence required by the new governmental measure will, so far as produce exchanges are concerned, render null and void, or in a large measure supersede, the certificates of registration that have already been issued to four or five of these enterprises.

SINGAPORE WAR MEMORIAL.

Last Stone of the Column Laid.

On March 16, less than five months after the commencement of the work, the last stone completing the roof of the Straits Settlements War Memorial on the Esplanade at Singapore, was laid. A large amount of work still remains to be done: the six steps up to the memorial have to be cut and laid, the paving laid and the parapet behind the Memorial erected. It is understood that the paving will all be completed before the arrival of His Royal Highness. The work on the steps is well-advanced. Each step will bear a separate date for each year of the war, the bottom step bearing the date "1914" and so on. The actual weight of the cenotaph, as it stands at present, is 290 tons, while a further 180 tons will be used in completing the memorial.

With regard to the sculpture, it was fortunate that Mr. R. Wenig, the well-known Swiss sculptor, happened to be in Singapore, and his services were employed in making the models for the lion's head at the top of the crown and for the laurel wreaths, splendidly executed work, from which the Central Engine Works manufactured the bronze castings.

The inscription on the cenotaph, "To Our Glorious Dead" is dovetailed grooved lettering, filled in with molten lead. The 122 names, which are to be placed on the memorial, will be cast in relief in bronze.

There is reason for congratulation on the fact that the usual complement of accidents consequent upon work of this nature has been lacking. There has been only one accident on the site, and that of a minor character, one of the coolies hav-

PLATE GLASS WINDOW.

"Looking through my Toric lenses is like looking through a fine plate glass window" said an American lady in the course of her remarks while in a tram-car the other day. She said just the right thing. It cost a bit more to build a plate glass window and it cost a bit more to make a pair of Toric lenses than the ordinary flat kind. Torics are more than worth the small difference in cost to you in the added comfort you derive from their use. Toric lenses of any prescription are manufactured by The Hongkong Optical Co., successors to Clark & Co., manufacturing and refracting opticians, 53, Queen's Road Central.

We understand that the Catholic Bishop of Malacca has been invited to attend the unveiling ceremony on March 31st, but the rules of his Church do not permit of his being present. RENTS ORDINANCE CASE.

Summary Court, Judgment.

Judgment was given by the Puisse Judge (Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz) in the Summary Court this morning in an action between Wong Ngar and Ho Shu-chien, alias Ho Nai-sun, under the Rents Ordinance, which has occupied several hearings.

Plaintiff claimed possession of the ground of No. 21, Possession Street, of which he was the tenant. He further claimed damages for illegal dispossession. "There has been a great deal of evidence and some strenuous argument in this case," said his Lordship. "After the most careful consideration I find that the plaintiff has failed to satisfy me of any definite oral agreement—either that the tenancy should be continuous throughout—with a waiver of rent for the period occupied by the repairs—or for a new tenancy when the premises were fit for occupation."

"On this part of the case," his Lordship continued, "I accept substantially the defendant's evidence that he gave a notice which was extended for a month by agreement."

"I do not believe," said the Puisse Judge, "that the plaintiff intended to retain possession either by the occupation of his coolies who may have stopped on a few days, for their own convenience, or by leaving any appreciable quantity of furniture behind. I believe that in fact the plaintiff expected to go back when the repairs were finished, either because he thought that the new Ordinance gave him this right or because he expected to have no difficulty in agreeing fresh terms with the landlord. Even if any agreement for a new tenancy were proved, and I find that it is not, it is agreed that it would be unenforceable under the Statute of Frauds."

"In my opinion," his Lordship continued, "the Rents Ordinance does not help plaintiff. Section 4 does no more than preserve the rights of a tenant in possession. The section imposes statutory limitations upon the rights, whether contractual or Common Law, of the landlord, and these limitations cannot be extended beyond the express provisions of the Statute."

"I have been upon the facts," his Lordship continued, "that the tenant in actual occupation terminated his occupation during the currency of his tenancy by agreement with his landlord. If, notwithstanding such agreement, he remains in occupation, section 4 protects him against himself, and prevents the landlord from enforcing their agreement. But this tenant has gone out and has remained out of possession for months, and I have no power to give him the relief he desires. There must be judgment for defendant, with costs."

Mr. E. Davidson appeared for plaintiff and defendant was represented by Mr. M. K. Lo.

Tender forms with specifications and full particulars attached may be obtained from the Head Office of the Administration, Tientsin. AMERICA AND FAR EASTERN TRADE.

The party of influential Western American commercial heads who have just returned to California after their visit to Japan, China and other parts of the Orient, are reported to state that America, to survive commercially in the Far East, is "up against" the keenest competition since the war. The report devotes much space to the subject of foreign banking and credits, with the declaration that more liberal banking methods must be developed if the trade is to be held. The delegates found that British banks in the Orient extended much more favourable facilities to customers than any of the American banking institutions were disposed to offer. The development of credit organizations which are able to operate on an equally broad scale was urged in the report.

SHIPPING NEWS.GOLDEN SHIPS.

Speaking at a luncheon on board the Commonwealth liner Moreton Bay, Mr. Hughes said that, even reckoning the loss due to the purchase of wooden ships, the profits of the Commonwealth Line compared favourably with that of shipping ventures elsewhere. The net gain of the Commonwealth Line during the past five years, after allowing for writing down the whole capital cost was £1,600,000.

NEW AUSTRALIAN LINER.

The Australian Commonwealth liner Hobson's Bay left Messrs. Vickers' Naval Construction Works last month. This is the second liner which Messrs. Vickers have completed for the Commonwealth, and there is yet another, the Jarvis Bay, now being completed at Barrow. The Hobson's Bay, which first goes to Liverpool to dry dock, is one of five passenger ships being introduced in the London-Australian service.

PRICE FLUCTUATIONS.

Messrs. Kellock's, London, have produced a valuable chart showing the fluctuations in the price of a "new, ready cargo steamer of 7,500 tons," during the last 24 years. In 1920 the high price of £258,500 was reached. By the end of that year the price had fallen to £100,000. A price of £60,000 at the end of last year is now recorded. This compares with the highest price realized in 1911 of £62,500, to which the quotation rose in that year from £42,500. In comparing present and pre-war prices, it has to be remembered that ships built before the war cost far less than those which can now be described as "new, ready cargo steamers."

NAVAL CONTROL AT THE DARDANELLES.

The following is an abstract from information lately received in the Department of Overseas Trade:—In future the naval control at Chanak and Kavak will be undertaken by the French and Italians for alternate periods of three months. The sanitary service continues as heretofore. When it is the turn of duty of the British sanitary officer he will work in liaison with the French or Italian control as the case may be. The Italians will take over their turn of duty on the 1st February, 1922. The Italian officer will be stationed at Kavak, and will go on board the British trawler when he wishes in order to assist in the naval control. A French officer may also be sent to Kavak if one becomes available to assist in the control. The Italian officer will probably commence his duties on the 10th January, 1922.

DEFINITION OF "DEMURPAGE." The Mayor's and City of London Court has been called upon recently to determine exactly what is meant by a day's demurrage. The action in which this point was involved was brought by the owners of the steamer Robrix to recover £20 from a London firm who had taken the vessel under a voyage charter-party. By the terms of the agreement the boat was to be loaded and discharged in two and a half working days. The vessel arrived at Antwerp on November 17 last, and loaded in one and a half days. The Robrix then proceeded to her discharging port, London, which she reached at 5.30 a.m. She commenced discharge at 6 a.m., and completed at 3.30 p.m. on the following day. The plaintiffs maintained that the steamer occupied three and a half days in loading and discharging, and therefore claimed a full day's demurrage—£20. The defendants admitted the delay, but claimed that it only amounted to three hours, and they tendered £2.10s. in payment of the claim, and further submitted that in any case the plaintiffs could only claim compensation for 24 hours' demurrage, as a "day" or "conventional period" of 24 hours each; whether all the time on the first day was to count as one day; or whether defendants could split up a day from 12 noon on one day to noon on the next and call that one day. The plaintiffs urged that a day had a natural meaning of from midnight to midnight. Judge Jackson, who tried the case, stated that the action was so important one to shipowners and charterers, but he could not uphold the defendants' view. He decided that a working day meant a calendar day, and that the defendants were entitled to £20 demurrage. He therefore gave judgment for the plaintiffs, with costs.

PRAYA MURDER.

Prisoner Sentenced to Death.

The Praya murder concluded late last evening, prisoner being found guilty and sentenced to death.

In the course of a lengthy address, the Attorney General said that when the case was closed at the Magistracy the only evidence disclosed to the public was that of the Crown. The defence had read the evidence for three weeks, picked holes and decided on it what line of defence they had better take up, while the evidence of the defence was new. Mr. Kemp said that the Crown's case was perfectly clear and convincing. It was so at the Magistracy and at the Supreme Court, and it was as strong and clear as any prosecution could rely on. Inconsistency there had been in this case and it was for the Jury to say which of the inconsistent stories was reliable and credible. Mr. Kemp then continued at length the evidence of the witnesses for the defence and their demeanor in giving evidence and reviewed the evidence of his witnesses. Both Captain Morgan and Mr. Larkins swore that they only saw the prisoner when he was running in the street. If there had been two men running in front of the prisoner, as was alleged by the witnesses for the defence, Captain Morgan and Mr. Larkins must have seen them.

The Summing Up.

In summing up, the Chief Justice said that there had doubtless been a lot of gossip about this case. Mr. Jenkin had said, but the Jury must decide it on the evidence, wholly irrespective of what they had heard elsewhere. It was purely a case of life and death and the only question for the Jury was: Had the Crown established in their minds, to the exclusion of all doubt, that the prisoner was the assassin? His Lordship emphasized that it was not proof as the Crown did not need to prove anything, but the suggestion was that the deceased had taken some active part in the strike for which the prisoner was being hanged. The prisoner was employed to assassinate a man. If the Jury accepted the evidence of the witnesses for the defence, they could only return a verdict of not guilty. If they rejected it, they must reject all of it, which would amount to a finding that there had been a conspiracy on the part of a number of Chinese witnesses to defeat the administration of justice in the Colony. His Lordship said he was perfectly justified in saying that while he did not reject all Chinese evidence, while there were a number who went into the witness box to speak the truth, actuated as much as anyone else by a desire to help the administration of justice, he was bound to tell the Jury that there were many witnesses who told stories without any regard to the truth. He regretted to say that was not uncommon. The most extraordinary details were given by one witness after another adding something further until the story seemed so conclusive that the Court was convinced. It found as a fact that evidence was frequently entirely invented.

Captain Morgan's Eyesight.

It was suggested that Captain Morgan was lying; but the defence submitted that he was mistaken. His Lordship proceeded to review the evidence.

With regard to the revolver, continued His Lordship, the defence was that if the prisoner had thrown the revolver into the gutter he must have been seen; but the Jury had to remember that Captain Morgan believed that the prisoner had shot a man was intent on securing his arrest. The Jury had to decide if it was possible for Captain Morgan not to have seen the revolver being thrown. If the story put forward by the defence was true, Captain Morgan's eyesight must have been very defective, as he swore that he saw nobody running except the prisoner, and Messrs. Larkins and Pereira must be in error in certain respects. If the Jury found otherwise, then the whole or practically the whole of the evidence of the defence was a conspiracy to defeat the administration of justice.

Guilty.

The Jury retired at 5 p.m. and were absent for nearly half an hour. They returned to the Court to ask a question.

The foreman of the Jury (Mr. H. W. Bird) in reply to His Lordship, said: The Jury understood you to say that if we have no reasonable doubt that the man whom Captain Morgan saw leaving the ricksha is the prisoner in the dock, we should find him guilty?

His Lordship said that that was exactly what he said.

The foreman, irrespective of whether he saw him or the shot or not.

His Lordship, taking the whole of Captain Morgan's evidence, if you have no reason to doubt the truth of it you should find him guilty.

Mr. Jenkin, irrespective of whether he fired the shot or not.

After a short conference the Jury were asked by the Clerk of the Court if they had agreed upon their verdict, and if they were unanimous.

The foreman of the Jury: Yes, my Lord.

Chief of the Court: How say you? Do you find the prisoner guilty or not guilty?

Foreman of the Jury: Guilty.

Wrongful Admission of Evidence.

Mr. Jenkin applied for an arrest of judgment and asked his Lordship to reserve the point for legal argument on the ground of wrongful admission of the evidence of Mr. Larkins after the closing of the Crown's case.

The Chief Justice: But you agreed to it.

Mr. Jenkin: I cannot, my Lord, insist upon the evidence of Mr. Larkins, but I can insist upon the evidence of Mr. Larkins' evidence.

At the previous hearing, Mr. Larkins, in pointing out the material points of Mr. Larkins' evidence, asked His Lordship to apply to the case Section 68 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which entitles a judge to reserve any point of law for argument before the full Court, the trial meanwhile proceeding in the ordinary way and the judge's decision being binding on the full Court.

His Lordship said that he had no objection to Mr. Larkins' evidence being put in, but he had no objection to Mr. Larkins' evidence being put in.

withdrawn his objection to it. Had he rejected it the question would not have been raised at all as to its inadmissibility.

Mr. Jenkin said that he had no objection to withdraw it on His Lordship's refusal to entertain it.

His Lordship said he offered to confer with the Police Judge on the point. He objected to reserve it for the Full Court because he thought it was unnecessary to do so and it might mean that if it went in and the Jury convicted it would be a loophole for quashing the conviction in law.

Refusal to Postpone Sentence.

As regards the second point, the Chief Justice said that the Attorney General handed up to the Court some document as to what the man said to the Police; but he did not read it. Even if he had, he had made no reference to it whatsoever to the Jury. Against the alleged misdirection, His Lordship said that they accepted Captain Morgan's evidence as a whole they would be entitled to convict. Continuing, His Lordship said that the remedy for Mr. Jenkin was to petition His Majesty's Privy Council. He said no reason for reserving sentence.

Mr. Jenkin: With regard to the remedy which Your Lordship has indicated, which is an application to His Majesty's Privy Council, may I apply to Your Lordship that judgment on this man be suspended whilst I make the application?

The Chief Justice: I see no reason whatever to suspend it. I should certainly pass sentence upon him.

Addressing the prisoner, the Chief Justice said: The Jury having found you guilty, what have you got to say why sentence should not be passed upon you?

Prisoner: I have, I want to make a statement there. Prisoner pointed to the witness box.

The Chief Justice: No, you cannot do that. I can't give you that permission.

A Pathetic Finish.

Prisoner: I have committed no offence. I was there looking at people passing up stairs. I suddenly heard a bang as of the firing of a gun and then saw two men running past me like things. When they got to the Queen's Statue they separated. They ran past the Statue and I saw them.

The Chief Justice: You have said nothing to me in relation to what you told me in the witness box. It will be wasted time.

Prisoner: In that case I have nothing to say except to ask your Lordship to act on reason. I don't know how to say anything else. I leave the matter in Your Lordship's hands and ask you to have mercy on me.

The Chief Justice: Leung Wo, the Jury after a very patient hearing and after hearing an able defence on your behalf, have found you guilty of murder, and in that fact I entirely concur. It was a heinous crime and you took away the life of a man who had done no harm. For the crime of murder death is the only punishment in law, which is my duty to pass on you. The sentence of the Court is that you will be taken back to the place from whence you came and there to be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and that your body be buried in the place as His Excellency may direct. And may the Lord have mercy on your soul.

A pathetic scene ensued, in which the prisoner sobbed bitterly and his friends and family, between whom, I have done my utmost to say something, I must say more before I die. He turned his face to the wall and sobbed and a European attendant who removed him from the dock.

REST FOR MOTHERS.

How many babies are born just about the mother's bedtime and keep her busy for a good part of the night? The mother may not see anything apparently the matter with the child, but she may depend upon it that when he gets cross and sleeps a there is a real thing wrong, and the little one is taking the only means he has of telling it.

Under such circumstances Baby's Own Tablets are just the friend needed. They contain no opiates, but send baby to sleep simply because they remove the cause of his sleeplessness and make him feel well and comfortable. They are recommended for teething troubles, constipation, diarrhoea, colic, fever, indigestion and worms; they promote appetite and regular development.
